Working Thanksgiving Day Invited to Formal Dinner*

Washington, DC – The Secor Group, a global logistics and mobility services company headquartered in Washington, DC, and Four Seasons Hotel Washington will carry on a Thanksgiving tradition to honor first responders and emergency workers on Thursday, November 25th. The Secor Group, which currently owns and operates 13 companies in the global logistics and mobility industries covering a broad spectrum of specialized service areas, will provide the “Mayflower” truck which will be transformed into a formal dining area with carving stations, china, silver, fine linens and paintings. Hotel staff will dress in traditional Thanksgiving attire and serve turkey, ham, roast beef, stuffing, sweet potatoes, cranberry sauce, mash potatoes, gravy and pies to hundreds of DC’s finest.

“We are proud to once again support this holiday tradition of giving thanks to those who serve us each and every day,” said Charles Lawrence, CEO, Secor Group. “For more than a hundred years Washington, DC has been our home and for more than a decade we have donated a Secor Group Mayflower truck to provide a warm, safe place for our first responders to grab a traditional Thanksgiving meal with their colleagues. We’re pleased to partner again with Four Seasons Hotel Washington and commend them for bringing the true meaning of Thanksgiving to DC with us.”

Last year, more than 300 traditional Thanksgiving meals were served aboard the Mayflower and nearly 200 more were provided to go. Meals will be served on the 53-foot truck in front of the Four Seasons Hotel Washington in Georgetown from 11 am to 2 pm this year. All public servants working on Thanksgiving Day, November 25, 2011 are invited to stop by, including police officers, firefighters, emergency medical responders, hospital workers, park police and others serving the public.

“It is truly an honor to experience first hand the gratitude and smiles I receive every time I meet all of the men and women who help keep our city safe. Serving Thanksgiving dinner is the least we can do to give thanks to all of them,” said Christian Clerc, regional vice president and general manager, Four Seasons Hotel Washington.
